Humanizing Online Classes

Resources, Tips and Tricks

As an online instructor, it's important to be a "real person" behind the computer screen. Here are helpful hints for making connections over the web.

How to Humanize Your Online Class Infographic

Here are helpful pieces of information for ways to interject your personality into your online classroom. Select the linked title to access the infographic.

Creating Instructor Presence Presentation

Learn about instructor presence and how to create it in an online classroom. Select the linked title to access the presentation.

20 Ways to Create Teaching Presence Online

The University of Virginia shares ideas from the Community of Inquiry framework to help you with making your online class more "human." Select the linked title to access the document.

Humanizing Online Learning.

This blog from the University of Oregon explains the pillars of humanizing a course. Select the linked title to access the blog.